

In & Beyond Bath

Extraordinary Experiences for the Curious & Discerning.

Our Region

1 The Wye Valley 1 hour from Bath

This steep-sided, wooded river valley has served as the border between England and Wales for over a millennia. The river's banks are home to some of Britain's most extraordinary medieval gems, the great Cistercian Abbey at Tintern, and the towering fortress of 1000-year-old Chepstow Castle, scene of numerous bloody dramas throughout the centuries.

2 The Cotswolds 1 hour from Bath

This beloved region of England had its heyday in the Middle Ages when English wool was highly prized and sold into Europe along the Silk Road and Arabic Empire to the Far East. In decline from the 1600s onwards following the discovery of the Americas and the growth of the cotton trade, the open, rolling hills, ancient settlements, grand estates and thatched roofs provide an extraordinary insight into a distant past.

3 Bristol 40 minutes from Bath

Britain's main western port historically and linked to London by the ancient King's Road (The Great West Way) and the world's first long distance passenger railway, the Great Western Railway, Bristol is one of England's most buzzing and eclectic cities. Founded on seafaring, and later, grown wealthy on the back of the slave trade, Bristol today is a metropolitan and fascinating destination boasting an array of industries. Enjoy the art galleries, eateries and museums that line the historic docks, or stroll past the Georgian façades of Clifton to admire the view from its iconic suspension bridge. Discover the city's aeronautical past with a visit to Concorde at Filton aerodrome, or enjoy the shopping and sumptuous dining the city has to offer.

4 Somerset 30 minutes from Bath

This stunning, rural county south of Bath is home to breathtaking countryside & natural phenomena like Cheddar Gorge and the Mendip Hills; Britain's smallest medieval city, Wells; Glastonbury – a pilgrimage destination for Christians and Pagans alike, and much more. Lacking the fame of the Cotswolds, Somerset is a stunning destination for visitors looking to experience rural England away from the tourists.

5 North Wessex Downs 1 hour from Bath

These extraordinary grasslands mark the transition in the British Isles from a hunter-gatherer based society to the early beginnings of a settled society. The region is littered with prehistoric marvels: stone circles, burial tombs, ancient pathways, mysterious structures and Iron Age hill forts. The landscapes are breathtaking and still evoke a long lost era that pre-dates even the Romans' arrival 2000 years ago.

Welcome to In & Beyond Bath

At In & Beyond Bath, we offer curious travellers the chance to explore the England of their dreams in a relaxed, personalised, and meaningful way for those coming to the Bath region. Our tours combine must-see sights with hidden gems, all led by passionate, personable local guides. Our seamless, stress-free approach ensures that your journey feels like an adventure with close friends, where genuine human connection and surprise moments of delight are at the heart of every experience.

"I founded the company after returning from living in Zambia in 2016, leaving my former career as a history and politics teacher to share my passion for the 'England' I'd longed for whilst away, and promptly resolved to create a tour company that shared this 'authentic' England as the personal experience I seek when travelling myself." – Jules Mittra

We design every itinerary with a balanced and imaginative approach, ensuring each tour is both unique and memorable. Our flexible, adaptive service means we can adjust on the go to meet the needs of our guests, providing a truly personalised experience.

We focus on building genuine connections with our guests, sharing the beauty of our region while exploring alongside them. Together, we enjoy the learning experiences that unfold and the powerful discussions and relationships that develop along the way. We believe the best experiences aren't found in following a formula, but in connecting on a human level.

We aim to be a positive and transformative business, empowering and developing our team, working alongside local communities and partners, and making environmental sustainability and community engagement integral to the way we work.

Our core values—creativity, inclusivity, and respect—are woven into everything we do. We prioritise quality over quantity, delivering unhurried, rich experiences that leave a lasting impact. Going far beyond simple sightseeing, we share anecdotes, stories, connections and surprises to ensure every experience we deliver is unforgettable and engaging from start to finish, leaving a lasting impression long after your journey ends...

We hope you'll join us and fall in love with our region too.

In & Beyond Bath

"I'm Jules, the founder of In & Beyond Bath. I set up In & Beyond Bath to provide a different kind of touring experience – one that provides a real insight into our culture, heritage, places, stories and cuisine in a manner that is much more meaningful and based on personal connection and meaning, focused on the guests' experience, not on the itinerary or the guide."

Our Team & Values

"We believe the way we work is just as important as the experiences we create. From the care we give our team to the way we look after our guests and partners, every decision is guided by the same question: Will this lead to the best possible outcome for everyone involved? Often, it is the small, thoughtful touches that make the biggest difference, and we make sure they are woven through everything we do."

People First

Our team, our guests, our community and our partners are at the heart of everything we do. When people thrive, everything around them thrives too.

Collaborative

We do not simply follow a script, and we do not call all the shots. We take the time to listen, understand your interests, and then combine them with our passion and local knowledge to create something remarkable together.

Meaningful Experiences

The moments that stay with us are the ones that mean something. We design our itineraries to be unhurried, thoughtful and rich in connection, never rushed or superficial.

The Best and Breadth

We share the landmarks you have always wanted to see, as well as the hidden corners you never knew existed. By getting to know you, we can weave in unexpected places and stories that surprise and delight long after your journey ends.

Why Visit Bath?

Bath is a very special destination, and one that offers a unique experience to visitors. The city and its surrounds are located within two areas of outstanding natural beauty, The Cotswolds and The Mendips, and the entire urban area of the city is inscribed as a UNESCO World Heritage site, the only example in of its kind in the UK.

Bath's natural thermal springs, which attracted the Romans to establish the settlement around 50AD continue to attract visitors to bathe in the spring waters. And while you can enjoy the waters and therapeutic treatments at the Thermae Bath Spa today, you can also visit the original Roman Baths and stand in footsteps of visitors from 2,000 years ago.

The Roman Baths sit comfortably alongside the historic Bath Abbey, the site of the coronation of King Edgar, the first king of England in 973AD. However, it is the stunning Georgian architecture of Bath that the city is most famous for, with its sweeping crescents and honey coloured Bath stone buildings.

If it feels like being enveloped within a Jane Austen novel or a period drama, it is not a surprise given that Jane Austen herself resided in Bath and set two novels here. You can learn more about her and her life at the Jane Austen Centre or visit during the Jane Austen festival. Bath itself is often used as a location for film and TV, most recently as the setting for Bridgerton but also featuring in Les Misérables, The Duchess and Vanity Fair.

Jane Austen is not the only writer to create classics while staying in Bath. Mary Shelley wrote most of Frankenstein while staying in the city in 1816 and in 2021, a new visitor experience, Mary Shelley's House of Frankenstein, opened to the public, celebrating the author and her creation.

Culture enthusiasts will also be excited by the number of museums and galleries located in and around the city. For a small, walkable city there are a wide range of small museums celebrating the city's social history as well as celebrating monumental discoveries. Both the Holburne and the Victoria Art Gallery host world-class exhibitions alongside local artists.

Cultural visits are not limited to the day as the city offers up pre-West End theatre at the Theatre Royal and is home to many classical and contemporary musical events and festivals. Its annual cultural programme is rich and diverse with carnivals, colour and the UK's finest Christmas market, celebrating small local artisan producers.

Being a small urban centre surrounded by stunning countryside, there is an incredible array of local food and drink to discover – even including visits to the producers. A number of local cheese producers, vineyards, gin distilleries, bakeries, cider makers and craft breweries offer tours and experiences for foodies. There are excellent food tours exploring historical and modern-day favourites, with the not-to-be-missed Sally Lunn's, reputedly the oldest house in Bath and home to the famous Sally Lunn bun.

Bath's hospitality extends to the favourite English pub. Nestled in and among the cobbled streets, enjoy a warm welcome and hearty food, all washed down with a pint of local beer. Don't miss the country pubs too, with breath-taking views or riverside inns for a feel of yesteryear. And if you prefer your drinks a little more contemporary, there are plenty of sophisticated cocktails and elegant wine bars. A warm welcome will also be waiting for you at one of Bath's many luxury and boutique hotels, guest houses or holiday lets.

From the natural thermal waters at the Gainsborough Hotel & Spa to the majesty of the Royal Crescent Hotel & Spa, these are truly destination hotels. In recent years the emergence of quirky boutique hotels offer sumptuous and decadent surroundings with incredible attention to detail, including The Bird and No 15 Great Pulteney. For those wanting the comfort of familiar brand, Hilton and Marriott are also represented.

Bath's independent hotel and guest houses really offer a luxurious home from home, including award-winning The Queensberry Hotel and its Michelin starred Olive Tree Restaurant. And if your preference is more rural, stunning countryside destination hotels surround the city including the five star Bath Priory, quirky Homewood or The Pig.

A visit to Bath offers 2,000 years of history with one of the UK's most vibrant cultural scenes, wrapped in stunning natural landscapes and the warmest of welcomes. We've been welcoming visitors for 2,000 years and we can't wait to welcome you!

History

During the 1700s, as Britain began to emerge as a global power on account of its burgeoning empire and industrial might, Bath found itself to be the fashionable residence for the new and more established wealthy classes to meet and connect. As a result, Bath was transformed from an unimportant medieval town known for its springs by visiting lepers hoping for a cure, to becoming a playground for the rich and famous and the birthplace of a new imperial, classical architecture with the region's golden limestone taking centre stage.

What Makes Bath the Perfect Base to Discover ‘Authentic’ England?

Bath is the ideal base for visitors looking to discover the very essence of authentic England – its culture, landscapes, history, cuisine, people and much more.

The region around Bath boasts a huge variety in terms of landscapes, places of interest and hidden treasures. Every direction from the city offers something different. The Cotswolds lie to the north and north-east. The prehistoric landscapes of the Marlborough Downs and Salisbury plain, home to the great stone circles of Stonehenge and Avebury are to the east and south-east. To the south lies the stunning countryside of Somerset, as well as medieval marvels including Glastonbury and Wells, and the dramatic limestone caves and views of Cheddar Gorge, whilst to the west sits the historic, yet vibrant city of Bristol, and the Welsh borderlands, home to some of the UK’s most enchanting medieval ruins and picturesque landscapes.

Throughout the region are stunning pubs and inns, beloved by locals, but off the beaten track, that are historic, evocative and serve the most exquisite food and incredible local ales.

Whether it’s history, nature, cultural connections or something else that you are looking to encounter during your time in England, you can be guaranteed that you’ll find the best and breadth of authentic England around Bath.

A walking tour is the perfect way to ground yourself in Bath before venturing further afield.

See pages 16–27 for more details.

Prehistory

The Bath region is home to some of England’s greatest prehistoric gems, including Stonehenge, and the mysterious stone circle at Avebury. Nearby are 6000 year old tombs (that can be entered), burial mounds, Iron Age hill forts and other wonders from our distant past.

Mediaeval Marvels

From 1000 year old abbeys, to Gothic masterpieces such as Wells Cathedral, to perfectly preserved medieval villages like Lacock and Castle Combe, the Bath region is home to some of England’s greatest medieval monuments. Explore marvels such as the great castle at Chepstow, the ruined abbey at Tintern or one of any number of extraordinary, ancient churches that are littered across the landscape, harking back to a very different time.

Gardens, Countryside and Landscapes

For lovers of nature and horticulture, the Bath region is awash with the very best of gardens that traverse the styles and historical periods. For lovers of formal, landscape, cottage, walled, Italianate gardens or something else, some of the best in the world can be found in the Bath area. A visit to Stourhead Estate and Gardens is a breath-taking experience, as is a wander through the maples at Westonbirt Arboretum in the autumn.

The countryside around Bath is also exquisite, made of fields, hedgerows and ancient settlements reached by tiny lanes with the Cotswolds, Somerset, and the hills of Wiltshire all possessing their own unique feel.

Historic Towns and Settlements

The West Country is home to some of England’s most evocative towns and villages. Towns like Bradford-on-Avon, Frome, Corsham, Tetbury and Malmesbury are historic, vibrant and filled with hidden wonders and fabulous independent stores making them ideal stops for really connecting with everyday life in authentic England, away from the tourist hordes.

Filming Locations in The South West of England

Bath is a must-visit for TV and Film lovers. The city and the surrounding region have become one of the most popular destinations worldwide for the big screen.

The beauty, visual appeal, heritage (including numerous historic grand houses) and close access to film studios in London and Bristol make it an easy choice for big studios working on a wide range of genres and sizes. Bath regularly stands in for London in almost every Georgian-era-themed film and TV series (such as Netflix's hit series, Bridgerton). You'll also recognise Bath from 2022's Holiday season hit, Wonka featuring Timothée Chalamet.

Rather unsurprisingly, many of the places we include in our tours appear in one or more of these productions...

The historic and picturesque nature of the region means that locations such as Bath, Castle Combe, Lacock and many other villages (and towns) in the area feature prominently in period dramas. This includes Jane Austen's 1995 Pride and Prejudice series that catapulted Colin Firth to stardom, 2011 Warhorse, Persuasion 1995 & 2022 and many more. If you're a fantasy lover you'll feel right at home amongst the Harry Potter filming locations and the lesser-known, but equally charming 2007 Stardust.

Our tours are perfect for exploring some of these big-screen, real-life locations. We go far beyond film-set collecting to provide real insight into the magical places themselves, and discover what drew location scouts to them in the first place!

Let our guides know that you're interested in filming locations, and they'll be sure to point them out during your tour. And for the movie buffs who are set on being immersed by the places they've fallen in love with from the big screen, a custom, private tour focusing on just the places and films you're really into is just the ticket!

Fantastic tour of Wiltshire, Avebury and Lacock

“ We had an amazing day with Simon Whittaker as our guide. We not only saw Stonehenge, but the West Kennett Long Borrow, Silbury Hill, Avebury Stone Circles and Lacock village! And 2 chalk White Horses. Simon was so informative and amusing. A complete fount of information! The van was comfortable for our group of seven. Plenty of stops for food and "relief". Just a great day! ”

Effortless and personal

“ [...] We explored Wales and a whole range of places off the beaten track that we never would have found on our own. Their knowledge of the area is deep, but what makes it special is the way they share it with warmth, enthusiasm and a genuine love for what they do. [...]”

Max is the best!

“ Max led us out into the countryside to see Stourhead, Alfred’s Tower, and Hauser and Wirth Somerset. Max was one of the best guides I’ve ever had! He was engaged, entertaining, personable, and was quick thinking on his feet when the rain inevitably rolled in at one point. I plan to call them again next time I’m in Bath. ”

Seasonal Signature Tours

Curated for the Season

Experience the unique charm each season brings to our region, where every season unveils new charm in our diverse landscape.

Spring

Spring is the time of rebirth and rejuvenation. This is the theme when visiting the Bath region known for its wellness connections. Whilst the weather and temperatures can be temperamental during this period, getting into the countryside on a brisk Spring day is an experience like no other.

Garden and nature lovers alike should make visiting in Spring a priority, as all flowers of all types begin to bloom in late February. It's a beautiful time to connect with nature, and also historic places and attractions before the crowds of Summer arrive.

Summer

Summer has always been the most popular time to travel to the Bath region, and it's easy to see why. The weather, whilst never guaranteed, is likely to be comfortably warm with an easy breeze. The lovely long and light evenings paired with early sunrises, make maximising the day a very easy thing to do.

Visit in June and July to enjoy the benefits of visiting in summer. This avoids the European/British school holidays. A visit in August (whilst busier) means a greater chance of encountering the many local events. Events such as; fêtes, fairs, and festivals run through these months.

Autumn

Arrive in early Autumn when both the days and evenings are warm and light, providing a summer-esque experience - avoiding the crowds, heat and prices.

Come from mid-October to late November, when the landscape is transformed into something utterly spectacular. It's a rich and unequalled experience that only the wisest will encounter!

Winter

For those willing to wrap up warm and brave the weather for a winter tour, this is a great time to visit! The season rewards you with basement-low rates, attractions to yourself, and the opportunity to soak in the unique cultural experiences of the season.

Not to mention the myriad of festive experiences before Christmas, including light displays, choral services, shopping extravaganzas and more...

A wonderful glimpse into the charming corners near Bath

“ We visited enormously charming villages, ate really well, visited a Christmas market, and even had a back of the shop tour at a fantastic jeweller’s shop. Overall this was such a lovely, pleasant , and unhurried view of the area. (Also, gluten intolerance was dealt with, with no drama at all.) In general, I highly recommend I&BB tours—real quality and thoughtful planning make a difference! ”

It was everything we were looking forward to and more.

“ In and Beyond Bath did a fabulous job of putting together a very bespoke itinerary for our family of four. It was everything we were looking forward to and more. It was a very enjoyable trip from beginning to end. We have traveled extensively around the world and I would rate In and Beyond Bath, and, especially our guide, Max, as one of the very best companies we have traveled with. Max earned our trust from the moment we met him, and his suggestions and input for the remainder of our trip were perfectly lovely. I would not hesitate to use In and Beyond Bath again, and hope to do so in the near future.”

Custom Multi-Day Tours

Discover the UK at Your Pace

For visitors looking to get further afield than the Bath region, we offer multi-day, multi-region tours across the UK.

Our approach to multi-day, multi-region tours is very much in keeping with our local touring philosophy. We aim to share the must-sees as well as the hidden gems, travelling along stunning routes and allowing time for our guests to really connect with our culture, heritage, people and food.

Just as with our Bath-based services, we work closely with our guests and trade partners to build extraordinary multi-day, multi-region tours that share the very best and breadth of our country at a pace that is relaxed and allows our guests to truly connect with the places they encounter.

Our guides and our planning team have travelled across the UK and are experts in crafting truly extraordinary itineraries that will share the must-sees, but also the wondrous, lesser-known gems that are truly astounding but usually hidden from view to the international traveller.

Private 2 day tour with Simon

“ We hired Simon to give us a private 2 day tour of Bath, Stonehenge and the surrounding area. He was excellent; helpful, knowledgeable, organized and with the sweetest disposition. He picked us up at the Bath train station and took us straight to Stonehenge. From there we did a half day walking tour of Bath. The next day he took us to Lacock to show our kids all the Harry Potter filming locations, not to be missed if you're a HP fan! Then he drove us through a few quaint villages on our journey to Highclere Castle to live out our Downton Abbey fantasy. He even found a way to surprise us with a stop at Avebury on the way! We had the best time with Simon and learned a lot, but he also taught us there is so much more to see! We'll be back again one day and will definitely be sure to hook up with Simon again.”

Amazing tour - family of 13

“ From the first email to the moment we returned to our hotel, In & Beyond Bath was incredibly accommodating. Jules' tour was informative, engaging, and kept our 5 teens and 10-year-old entertained. The team requested information on each of us to customize the stops, spoke directly to our kids, and delivered everything we asked for with a few surprises. They even arranged return transportation to London. Don't think twice when booking—they were great! ”

Day Tours From London By Train from Paddington

ROUTES

For visitors staying in London, but keen to connect with authentic England, we offer a service that shares the best of our region without the traffic and hours lost transiting from the capital.

With Paddington Rail Station located minutes from London's main hotel district and fast, comfortable trains to Bath (taking just 90 minutes) departing every half hour, we can meet guests at Bath or Chippenham stations and tour for a full day before waving them off on the platform for their train back to the capital.

We're happy to help you plan your journey and book train tickets. We have designed the tour to include must-sees as well as the more intimate, hidden experiences. You have the choice to choose two locations out of three (Stonehenge, The Cotswolds and *Bath). If you'd like to create your own custom experience, get in touch.

Included

- Pick up and drop off at the appropriate train station (Bath Spa and/or Chippenham)
- Travel in a luxury vehicle

Stonehenge & Cotswolds

This pairing captures the essence of timeless England in a single day. Begin with the mystery and grandeur of Stonehenge in the morning, then balance it with the charm of the Cotswolds in the afternoon. From ancient stones rising on Salisbury Plain to winding lanes and honey-stone villages, it is the perfect blend of iconic history and picture-postcard countryside.

Scan the QR code to find out more about this route.

Stonehenge & Bath

Our most popular route combines two of England’s most celebrated landmarks. The morning is devoted to Stonehenge, where you step into prehistory at one of the world’s greatest wonders. After lunch, you continue to Bath, a UNESCO World Heritage city of Georgian crescents, Roman Baths, and literary heritage. Together, they offer an unforgettable day that showcases England’s ancient past and elegant beauty.

Cotswolds & Bath

For those seeking charm and variety, this combination is hard to beat. Spend the morning in the Cotswolds, with its storybook villages and rolling landscapes, before arriving in Bath for the afternoon. The contrast of rustic countryside and graceful Georgian city creates a day filled with beauty, history, and culture in two of England’s most beloved settings.

Excellent time & would book again!

“ We booked a private tour to pick up our family in Salisbury to see Stonehenge and Avebury, then dropping us off in Bath (along with all our luggage). They were super accommodating, prompt, and communicative. Simon met us at the train station and was very friendly. He was extremely knowledgeable throughout the entire tour, throwing in a few extra sites to see along the way, as well as providing lots of historical information and context. We had an excellent time and would absolutely book again. ”

What Our Guests Say...

I am THRILLED

“ I am THRILLED we chose In Bath and Beyond for our first visit to Bath & the Cotswolds!! Simon, our private guide, was INCREDIBLE. Not only an absolute joy to spend the day with, but so knowledgeable, funny, flexible and thoughtful. I've been dreaming of the English countryside for years, and Simon DELIVERED.

As someone who struggles with crowds, Simon made sure to structure our itinerary so that we would avoid the busiest areas at the busiest times, and we didn't deal with a single crowd! He took us to the oldest hotel in England for a delightful coffee and the delicious Gibb Inn for the best pub meal I've ever had.

What meant the most to me was that once Simon realized how much I loved/ appreciated just walking through the gardens, meadows and fields of the area, he made sure to include a couple of extra spots where I could do just that. I will definitely use In and Beyond Bath again and am eternally grateful to Simon for giving me, my mom and my sister such a perfect day. THANK YOU! Will be back soon (I hope!) for a hike. ”

This was the highlight of our trip!

“ Toby took us on a tour of Bath! This was the highlight of our trip! What a friendly, knowledgeable and engaging man! We learnt alot and absolutely enjoyed it. Would recommend if you want to get a good feel for Bath and find lots of hidden gems. ”

Fabulous Jane Austen walking tour of Bath

“ We had a fantastic Jane Austen walking tour of Bath with Justin Millward. We know a bit about Jane Austen but has never visited her places in Bath, despite visiting there before. Justin is a mine of information about Jane and her family and we spent a very pleasant 2 hours walking around her parts of the city, including Sydney Place, Sydney Gardens and the Gravel Walk. The gorgeous apothecary that Jane's mother used is a gem and a must-see.

Thanks to Justin for an engrossing walk and discussion of Jane's life and times in Bath. Highly recommended on the 250th anniversary of Jane's birth. ”

South West England Tourism Excellence Gold Award

We are proud winners of the Gold Award at the South West England Tourism Excellence Awards, the region's highest tourism accolade. This honour celebrates exceptional service, creativity, and unforgettable guest experiences, recognising us among the very best in the South West.

5+ !!!!

“ We had an absolutely incredible day with our tour guide Roland H. He took us to Silbury Hill, the Avebury Stone Circle, Lacock Village, and Stonehenge, crafting the perfect itinerary that balanced stunning sights, rich history, and a fantastic old pub lunch.

I'd already visited Stonehenge before, but this trip was all about my six-year-old son. Roland was phenomenal! He tailored the stories and history to keep my son engaged and curious the entire time. Even on a super hot day, Roland made sure we had water, kept things moving at the right pace, and had no problem keeping up with a six-year-old full of energy, running around and exploring.

Roland was kind, knowledgeable, and wonderful to talk to. You could tell he genuinely loved what he does and wanted to make sure we had the best experience possible. I can't recommend him enough , anyone visiting this area should absolutely tour with him. If we return to this part of England, I'll absolutely book another tour with him. Thank you, Roland, for making our day so memorable! ”
